18 Section 249 of the act of June 8, 1872, proterm.

18 Section 249 of the act of June 8, 1872, provides that contracts for the transportation of the mail shall be "awarded to the lowest bidder tendering sufficient guarantees for faithful performance, without other reference to the mode of such transportation than may be necessary to provide for the due celerity, certainty, and security thereof." Under this law bids that propose to transport the mails with "celerity, certainty, and security," having been decided to be the only legal bids, are construed as providing for the entire mail, however large, and whatever may be the mode of conveyance necessary to insure its "celerity, certainty," and security," and have the preference over all others, and no others are considered, circpt for steamhost routes.

19. A modification of a bid in any of its essential terms is tantamount to a new bid, and cannot be received, so as to interfere with regular competition. Making a new bid, with guarantee and certificate, is the only way to modify a previous bid.

20. Postmasters are to be careful not to certify rious bid.

20. Postmasters are to be careful not to certify to the sufficiency of guarantors without knowing that they are p. rsons of sufficient responsibility. See section 247, act of June 8, 1872.] They must not sign the certificate until the sum of the bid is inserted, and the bid and guarantors as signed by the bidder and (two) guarantors; a disregard of this instruction by Postmasters will subject them to immediate removal and to severe penalties.
